

Enbrel® (etanercept) Product Labeling

Please note that the needle cover of the Enbrel prefilled syringe, the needle cover within the white cap of the Enbrel SureClick® autoinjector, and the needle cover within the purple cap of the Enbrel Mini® cartridge contain dry natural rubber (a derivative of latex), which may cause allergic reactions in individuals sensitive to latex. Due to manufacturing changes currently being implemented, two versions of the product labeling are available.

Please select one of the following:

For the product labeling related to latex-containing product, which is also packaged with your product, click here.

For the most recent version of the product labeling containing other updates, click here.
